

Dear Parents & Guardians,

March 2, 2016 is Dr. Seuss' birthday and Read Across America Day! This day is a nationwide reading celebration where schools and libraries across the country connect through their love of books and reading! Francone has taken the pledge with the National Education Association (NEA) to continue building our community of readers. Please help us celebrate by having your child wear our uniform colors of red and/or white on March 2nd. You can find more information and fun resources for your family at www.nea.org/readacross and <http://www.seussville.com/Educators>

Sincerely,

Francone Elementary

learn, the more places you'll go."*
